

Two Poultry Firms Must Show Records

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Two Arkansas poultry firms have been ordered to open their records to the U.S. Agriculture Department in a key test of whether the government has the right to make broad-scale investigations of the industry in Arkansas, Georgia and Alabama.

The order was issued Tuesday by U.S. District Judge John E. Miller in a 27-page opinion. Miller had taken the case under advisement Feb. 18 after the government asked that Tyson's, Inc. of Springfield and Plus Poultry, Inc. of Siloam Springs open their books.

Both firms had refused to permit inspection of their records by agents of the Packers and Stockyards Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service during a preliminary investigation of the poultry industry in Arkansas.

Miller gave the companies until March 25 to file briefs stating why the books should not be opened.

The books were subpoenaed after James T. Tuggle, marketing specialist for the division, testified they were necessary to the proposed investigation.

The firms based their refusal on a contention they did not buy or sell live poultry and therefore could not be investigated under the Packers and Stockyards Act.

But Elmer A. Riddle, an assistant U.S. attorney, said the government wanted to decide for itself whether the transactions of the firms came under the law, and had to look at the books to do so.

At issue in the controversy is the exact nature of the transactions and whether a company deals in interstate commerce when it buys from another firm owned by the same stockholders.

The Springfield firm buys live birds from a Tyson affiliate, Poultry Growers, Inc. Don Tyson, vice president, testified, with transactions being made from the Springfield outlet. The affiliate has some contract growers in Missouri, he said.

M. H. Simmons, president of Plus Poultry, testified to a similar arrangement of his firm with a wholly-owned Oklahoma corporation.

Instead of buying poultry, he said, the Plus company only processed and sold the birds.

Rules Cuban Executioner Be Deported

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled today that Herman F. Marks, executioner for Fidel Castro in Cuba, is a man without a country and can be deported.

Marks, a native of Milwaukee, Wis., was known as the "Butcher" for his work as a henchman of Castro after the present Cuban prime minister overthrew the government of Fulgencio Batista in 1959.

Marks, 41, lost his citizenship March 31, 1962 on a ruling by federal Judge John M. Cashin. However the jurist ruled that Marks was not a deportable alien.

He appealed the loss of his citizenship, and the government appealed that part of the ruling which said Marks was not deportable.

Judge Cashin had rejected the government's previous plea that Marks be deported to Mexico.

Now free on $2,500 bail, Marks is required to surrender to the Immigration and Naturalization Service within the next few days, according to Roy Bahitt, special assistant to the U.S. attorney.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will determine the country to which Marks eventually will be deported.

International President Retires

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Arthur L. Ross, vice president of International Paper Co., has retired.

Ross, a Bastrop, La. native who had served as general manager of the firm's Southern Kraft division since 1961, said he was stepping down for reasons of health.

Ross was succeeded by Charlie L. Crain, chairman of the board. Richard C. Doucette said Crain had served as a vice president since 1958 and as assistant general manager since 1961.

Ross joined International Paper in 1925 and was named vice president in 1953.

Overruled in Farm Labor Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Agricultural Subcommittee has overruled both the Secretary of Labor and its own chairman, Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., in approving a bill to extend the Mexican Farm Labor program.

The bill would simply extend the current program.

Secretary of Labor Willard D. Wirtz wanted the program extended for one year, but with use of the Mexican workers allowed only if domestic labor was not available at wages equal to the pay (including state benefits and transportation) offered the imported laborer.

Gathings wanted to ease present restrictions of the program by providing payment for imported workers equal to the prevailing wage in the area where they were hired.

A level of wages that will not adversely affect the domestic labor market is called for in present regulations.

Great Fuss Over Lost Bus Is Over

YOUNG, Ariz. (AP)—The great fuss over the wayward bus is over.

A two-state search for a busload of 10 high school students and five adults from Young ended in a Harbor City, Calif., motel Tuesday night.

All hands were reported safe. The bus driver, W. H. Merchant, principal of the high school, said the bus wasn't missing at all.

The bus left this tiny central Arizona community Saturday for an Easter vacation trip to Disneyland, Marineland and the San Diego Zoo.

Arizona authorities began a two-state search after members of the group failed to telephone their families Saturday night. The parents understood they were to get nightly phone calls, authorities said.

Merchant told police there was no such agreement. Besides, he explained, there were only a couple of telephones in Young, and it was often impossible to reach the town.

Adding to the confusion, police said, was the group's decision not to check in at the Long Beach, Calif., hotel where they had reservations. Merchant said they decided to stay at a motel in nearby Harbor City because the Long Beach hotel was perilously close to an amusement area and sailors out on the town.

Police said they found the missing Arizonans after getting a phone tip from someone who had heard about the missing bus and spotted it in Harbor City.

Merchant told officers they plan to go to San Diego Thursday, then return home Friday or Saturday.

The management at the motel refused to let newsmen talk to the Arizonans. "There's been too much commotion already," a spokesman said.

Faubus said State Police Director Herman Lindsey would attend the meeting. A cutback in the state police program was announced recently as an economy move.

Sen. Hurst Indicted on Tax Count

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst indicated Tuesday he would seek an immediate trial of charges in an indictment of him on four counts of income tax evasion.

And Hurst said he was sure once the records were presented to a jury "there will be no doubt but the case will be promptly disclosed of and I will be vindicated."

Hurst posted a $10,000 bond before U.S. Commissioner Sigun Rasmussen Tuesday at Hot Springs after the indictment was served.

He was not required to make a plea since he was charged in an indictment.

The indictment alleges that the 44-year-old attorney failed to pay $22,913.06 in taxes due for the years 1956 through 1959.

Hurst said Tuesday night "this is the first notice that I've had that the U.S. claims that I owed any certain amounts in income taxes."

"If I had ever been presented any kind of a bill by the Internal Revenue Service, I would have made prompt settlement, but I have never been given the opportunity," he said.

At Fort Smith, where the grand jury handing down the indictment convened, U.S. District Clerk Truss Russell said Hurst is charged with reporting taxable income of only $97.74 and paying $19.95 in tax during the four years, when his actual income was $64,791.68 and the tax due, $22,932.61.

Hurst said he could not understand the counts.

"The Arkansas Bank and Trust Co., by a certified check paid with my 1959 returns, a tax in excess of $5,000. Yet the indictment showed I paid no tax whatever," he said.

Hurst, a state senator since 1950, has been a key member of the Legislative Council and was named chairman of the Legislative "Joint" Audit Committee recently.

He represents Garland, Hot Springs and Conway counties.

Ford Firm to Pick New President

By PEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. directors pick a new president today to succeed the retiring John Dykstra, who will be 65 next week.

Dykstra's successor may come from the ranks of the whiz kids of the group of Air Force statistical officers who joined Ford in 1948 when Henry Ford II and Ernest Breech set out to reorganize the company after World War II.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who was president of Ford for two months before moving to Washington, is the best-known of the group.

Leading contenders for Dykstra's job apparently are Arjay R. Miller, a scholarly appearing Nebraskan who is vice president, staff group, and James O. Wright, a soft-spoken Virginian who is vice president, car and truck group.

Also in the running is John S. Bugas, vice president, international group. A former FBI agent, Bugas has been at Ford since 1944 and directed labor relations for 14 years.

Although conforming strictly to the standard auto industry practice of retirement at 65, confirmation of Dykstra's impending departure was regarded as a mild surprise. He became president two years ago this month. At that time Ford spokesmen indicated to questioners he might not quit automatically when he reached his 65th birthday.

Board Chairman Henry Ford II told a questioner Tuesday Dykstra will retire this month.

Killed by Train

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — A Rock Island freight train struck and killed Curtis Thompson, 65-year-old Negro of Ingalls, Ark., near Ingalls Tuesday night. Bradley County Sheriff John Cruce said the elderly man was walking across the tracks to meet friends who had called to him.

Seeks More Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power and Light Company is seeking permission from the state Public Service Commission to take over an area of service land of the C&L Electrical Cooperative in Jefferson County. The power firm said the cooperative was agreeable to release of the area near Watson Chapel, in which it serves three home owners.

Springdale Votes Bonds

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Springdale voters have approved bond issues that would give the city a new fire station and library and reduce taxes in the community by $5,400 a year.

Voters approved re-issuance of a $419,000 bond first passed in 1959. The vote was 485 to 62. A new issue of $583,000 was passed in two sections. By a vote of 491 to 57 for construction of a fire station and 464 to 84 for purchase of a library.

Interest on the re-financed issue would be reduced from 3.92 to 3.06 per cent, city officials said. A reduction of city tax from 5 to 4 1/2 mills was approved.

Youth Bill Faces Some Opposition

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's youth employment bill faces stiff and possibly prolonged Republican opposition in the Senate today but Democrats claimed the votes to pass it if they can get to a final roll call.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called his colleagues in two hours early and promised a night session if necessary to get action.

Mansfield said he was determined to pass the high-priority administration measure before an unofficial Easter recess begins Thursday night.

However, Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., quarterbacking the Republican opposition to the legislation, declared he would have a lot to say about the bill and that his GOP colleagues would propose numerous amendments.

Prouty declined Mansfield's bid to put into effect a debate limitation agreement—the usual way to speed floor action. This requires unanimous consent.

Kennedy proposed the bill when Congress met in January as a partial solution to one of the nation's severe problems—the high rate of unemployment among youths in the 16-21 age bracket.

About 700,000 of these were out of school and out of work last year.

The measure would operate through two programs—a federal youth conservation corps and a hometown public service corps.

The bill survived the first Republican move Tuesday, an attempt by Prouty to shunt it to the interior committee for as much as three weeks.

This was beaten 58 to 29 but it did not necessarily indicate eventual passage. Several Southern Democrats who voted against the move said they still would oppose the measure.

Then, apparently hoping to pick up a few votes, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., proposed a $20-million cut in the first-year authorization of $120 million. This easily carried 65-21.

The administration had announced that, in any event, it planned to ask only for $100 million for the initial year of the program.

Diefenbaker Is Reluctant to Step Down

By MAX HARRELSON

TORONTO (AP)—Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker flies to Ottawa today for talks that should determine whether he will try to remain in office despite the Liberal party victory in Monday's election.

The 67-year-old Conservative leader called a meeting Thursday of his lame duck Cabinet to consider the question.

He is expected to confer with leaders of the Social Credit and New Democratic parties to see whether they would support him if he decides to stay on. He would need the backing of both.

He probably will not announce his decision until the armed forces vote is tabulated. That may be another week. Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson is ready to form a government if and when Diefenbaker steps down.

The Liberals won the largest number of seats in the House of Commons but fell five short of a majority. They captured 128 of the 265 seats and the Conservatives took 96. The remainder were divided among the smaller parties—24 to Social Credit and 17 to the New Democrats.

The Liberals could pick up two or three additional seats when the service votes are all in, but there is only a remotest possibility they could get the 133 needed to give them a majority.

Under a precedent established by the late W. L. Mackenzie King, Diefenbaker could continue as prime minister without having the largest party in Commons but it would be necessary for him to have support from other parties. It is customary for the leader of the largest party to form the government.

A DEAD ENDING

THE STORY: Malt Higby has been arrested on suspicion of the murder of Dennis Hooper, son of the influential General Hooper who had slandered Higby. Cornelius Ryan, attorney for Higby, is talking to Alec Burton, an assistant from the district attorney's office who tells why Higby is being held.

CHAPTER I X

"Did Dennis find anything to connect Higby with the racket?" I asked.

"Nothing we've been able to discover," said Alec, wearily. "Nor do the police or FBI have anything on him. The TRPB gave him a clean bill of health. But Higby was apparently in a cold fury when he saw what had happened in the Terrill apartment. Check?"

"Check," I said, "and I don't blame him. But let me point out one thing, Alec. He hadn't the faintest idea who beat up Mrs. Terrill and wrecked the apartment. She didn't know them and couldn't describe them in any detail."

Alec took off his glasses and began to clean them with his handkerchief. "The General suggested — just suggested, mind you — that we check on Higby. If Higby got any kind of lead to Dennis Hooper he could have been mad enough to brain him."

"We put out a general alarm on him," Cash said. "We staked out the Terrill apartment. Higby walked into that stake out about one A. M."

"And he'd just been for a walk," I said. "A six or seven hour walk."

"He says," Alec murmured. "So this is your case," I said. "Higby went for a walk. He was burned up over what had happened to Frances Terrill and Dawn. If he'd known who was responsible he might have given him a going over. He didn't know, however. I tell you that; Frances Terrill will tell you that; the elevator man and the door-man in the building will tell you that. He didn't know."

"He knew General Hooper was after him," Cash said, stubbornly.

"Then why didn't he kill the General?" I asked. "If you've given me the whole pitch you haven't got anything to hold him on. And by the way, my befuddled friends, what about pretty-boy number two? Who was he?"

"The General doesn't know," Alec said.

"Didn't he leave any fingerprints in the back rooms? He tore apart the two bedrooms and the two bathrooms."

"He left a mass of them," Cash admitted. "So far they haven't checked out."

"You don't mind if I suggest, delicately, that he's worth finding," I said. "Do I take Higby home now, or do we have to go through a lot of red tape to spring him?"

Cash and Alec exchanged glances.

"Take him home," Alec said in a dull voice.

Cash seemed to relax. "We're really looking for another kind of guy. We found this on the floor in Dennis Hooper's apartment."

Cash took something out of his pocket and dropped it on his desk. It was a cheap clip-on bow-tie.

"I couldn't swear it was Higby's tie, but it was a duplicate of the kind he'd been wearing at the Athletic Club the day before. Somehow, I don't know how. I managed to draw in my breath again without sounding like a drowning man."

"Interesting cuss, this client of yours, Corny," Alec was saying. "It was just casual chit-chat. Alec had temporarily dismissed Higby as a murder suspect. I tried to keep my eyes off that silly necktie."

"In what way?" I heard myself ask.

"We went there looking for him in the wee small hours. Superintendent let us in. It's a studio apartment in the Village. Just one large room on the top floor of an old brick house. Four-flight walk-up. Old-fashioned bathroom. A gas ring behind a screen in one corner where he makes his own breakfast coffee. Furniture out of a secondhand shop. But one whole wall, about 25 feet of wall space,

Hurst has been a leading proponent of legalized gambling in Hot Springs and said prior to the 1963 General Assembly he would introduce a gambling bill. He did not do so after Gov. Orval E. Faubus said he would veto any such proposal.

Russell said the indictment charges that Hurst:

In 1956: Reported taxable income of $10.95 and paid $2.19, while income should have been reported as $14,189.77 and tax due was $4,349.19.

1957: Reported Taxable income of $86.79 and paid $17.36, while income should have been reported as $17,000.05 and tax due, $6,150.02.

1958: Reported no taxable income and paid no tax, while income should have been reported as $6,299.60 and tax due, $1,449.88.

1959: Reported no taxable income and paid no tax, while income should have been reported as $26,402.24 and tax due, $10,935.52.

Judge John E. Miller received the indictment in Fort Smith Monday night, but under federal court procedure, details of the papers were not disclosed until the in-has a closet built along it with sliding doors. In it are maybe 50 suits of clothes, slacks, sports jackets, four tuxedos, a set of tails, maybe 25 pairs of shoes, built-in drawers with perhaps 100 shirts in them — mostly sports shirts."

"I swallowed hard. Necktie collector?"

Alec looked at me, vaguely surprised. "Come to think of it I don't remember seeing any ties except some dress ties with matching cummerbunds. Point I'm trying to make, Corny, is he pays $70 a month for this glorified clothes closet. TRPB tells us he's worth about 25 million bucks."

A uniformed patrolman ushered Higby into the office. He had on the same clothes he'd been wearing the night before, but he'd managed to get himself shaved. He looked relaxed and undisturbed.

"Hello, Corny," he said. And then he saw that crummy bow tie lying on the desk. His head turned sharply to me, his eyes bright as two blue diamonds.

"These two gentlemen have decided they have no grounds to hold you on, Matt," I said, quickly. "Let's get out of here."

Racing Tax Take Totals $1.3 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Revenue Department netted $34,529 more in taxes from the 1963 race meeting at Oaklawn Park than it did from the 1962 season.

The department announced Tuesday receipt of $1,373,219 in taxes, compared to $1,338,690 collected last year.

And revenue from an additional 12 days of racing, first granted in 1961 and earmarked for the state construction fund, produced $429,160.

Arkansas gets its Oaklawn revenues from six sources: a five per cent tax on all wagers, a 10 per cent tax on each admission, a daily operating fee, miscellaneous licenses and fees and sales taxes and breakage (the odd cents calculated by the pari-mutuel machine but not paid to bettors.)

The revenue to the state on the latter source was $112,047 this year. The city of Hot Springs and the Oaklawn Jockey Club each get an equal amount.

There were 9,719 more persons attending the races this year, 410,175, compared to 401,456 last year. The wagering total of $24,679,677 represented an increase of $566,727.

Dunaway and State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney, who is ex-officio secretary of the Racing Commission, said Tuesday they were opposed to an extension of the racing season.

The meet now runs 43 days. There have been reports that a 60-day season would be sought.

Dunaway said he doubted such a movement would "get off the ground" and that "Arkansas has all the racing it can stand."

Cheney said he was "bitterly opposed" to any increase.

dictment was served.

Hurst said he was at a loss to explain the figures in the four counts.

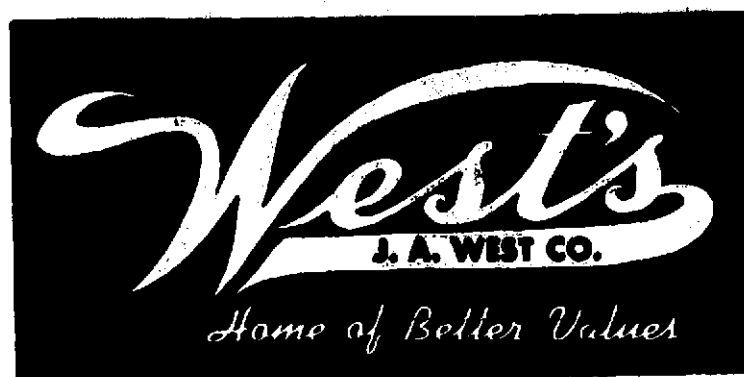

"I have been advised," he said, "and my accountants prepared each return for the years 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959. My losses in the early years in the attempt of mine to operate the Western Auto store, my extreme farm losses. I though could be legally carried forward through 1958."

Hurst operates the 300-acre Hazelhurst farm near Glenwood, just out of Hot Springs. He operated the store about five years ago.

"My books, records of my office, my farm and other businesses I've been involved in with various partnerships were all kept by competent accountants," he said.

Hurst said he was sure that when the Little Rock legal firm that represents him reads the indictment, they would file motions and seek early trial. The state senator said he was also represented by a former Internal Revenue Service agent, who filed his 1959 returns.

"I regret the indictment for my wife and children, and I know that professionally, even though I am confident of acquittal, I will suffer — and I feel unjustly," Hurst said.

Favor Preservation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright, Democrats of Arkansas, voted for a bill passed Tuesday by the Senate to set up a national wilderness preservation system. The bill was approved by a 73-12 roll call vote.

Negro Singer Willing to Go to Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—New racial demonstrations were planned today and blind singer Al Hibbler said he would lead a prayer march in this Deep South city.

"I'm willing to go to jail," said Hibbler.

"I'm itching to go to jail," the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy told some 300 chanting Negroes who attended a rally Monday night.

Ninety-six Negroes have been arrested since demonstrations began last Wednesday. Of these, 55 have been convicted of trespassing after warning and sentenced to 180 days in jail and fined $100 each.

Cases against 41 others arrested in racial demonstrations were sent to Federal Court. They claimed their civil rights were violated in a city court trial.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, a Negro minister, told newsmen that the U.S. attorney general's office had asked integration leaders for a moratorium on their direct action fight.

"We have been under a moratorium too long," said Shuttlesworth. "We turned them down. We are here for the duration. Many of us are willing to die, if necessary, on the streets of Birmingham."

Alabama Public Safety Director Al Lingo sent 100 highway patrolmen to Birmingham and stationed them on the city's outskirts.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., of Atlanta, told Monday night's gathering: "We have to

DOROTHY DIX

IN-LAWS TATTLE TO JEALOUS HUSBAND

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband does not believe that any woman can resist temptation, given the time, place and right man. Both his mother and mine were get-around girls. I saw enough of the complications resulting from my mother's way of life to keep me from being a two-timer. She and father were finally divorced.

I'm different, but my husband can't see it and won't permit me to go anywhere without him. Yet he's free to do as he pleases, drop in the corner bar for a drink, play cards with his buddies and come home when the spirit moves him.

We split up once over this but finally got back together and are doing 80 per cent better even though he still adheres to his Blue Beard ideas. The other day I went to a movie with a girl friend. My in-laws found out, ran all the way down to where my husband works and tattled. What a row that precipitated! I told my in-laws to stay out of my life but they won't. Please tell me what to do. —Singed, Burnt, and Desperate

Dear Singed: Tell your husband that marriage is based on love and trust. If he can't trust you then say it's time to call quits for good, and keep your word. That holds for his family as well. They have no more right to interfere with your life than he has to police it. Once you take a firm go to jail on masse and fill up the jails of Birmingham. If we do that we will turn this city upside down and right side up."

stand, they'll knuckle under. Control your emotions, especially your temper. Bite your tongue, dig your finger nails into the palms of your hands, leave the house, do anything but reply to your husband and in-laws in kind. Once you lose your temper, the game is up. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Jealousy." It may help you to help your husband.

Dear Helen: I have been dating steadily for a year with a boy I'm crazy about. We plan to marry this spring. But we quarrel about nothing, sulk four or five days and finally make-up only to start arguing all over again. After a big fight, each acts as if the other didn't exist. This just wouldn't work if we were married and forced to see one another every day; either I'd walk out or my husband would. Do you think our marriage has a chance? — Worried

Dear Worried: At least you have each other's attention. Study the art of companionship. Cultivate an interest in your fiancé's work and hobbies. If possible, share them with him. Whether we know it or not, sex harmony or sex antagonism is ever-present in all relationships between men and women. To get on with one another, constant adjustment and re-education is necessary. If you're companionable as well as in love, your marriage will indeed have a chance.

Dear Helen: I'm not writing this to be a know-it-all but times have changed since you were young. I wish you'd take this into consideration when you sound off about make-up, early dating and going steady. If you think I'm the only teenager who feels this way just print this and see how many are on my side. —Double Trouble-maker

Dear Trouble: Conventions come and to but the basic principles which were true when I was a girl still hold today. Common sense and good taste still teach the value of self-restraint in all things, including makeup, premature dating and going steady. Those lacking such qualities, strive to conceal the fact by brashness which only labels them as young and immature. Be honest. Be your age! Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Teenage Code."

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Urban Renewal Lacks Votes
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The official ballot count on Fort Smith's $2.5 million urban renewal project shows that the issue was beaten by 68 votes in a special election last Tuesday.

First reports showed the issue passed by 99 votes. Later two mechanical errors were discovered, one of them dropped 100 votes from a precinct and the other dropping three votes.

The revised total after the corrections showed the issue beaten by three votes.

After Monday's recount, the vote was 4,289 against the plan and 4,221 for it.

The project would have been financed by the federal government, to be met with local matching funds.

Arkansan, Woman to Be Executed
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Leslie Douglas Ashley, a native of Hot Springs, Ark., and Carolyn Lima were granted an extra 45 days of life here Monday.

Gov. John Connally granted a stay of execution until May 31 on recommendation of the Texas Pardons Board, which acted on request of Houston Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe.

He asked the stay to allow time for the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals to hear an appeal May 9.

Lima and Ashley were scheduled to die April 16 for the gun-torch slaying of Fred Tones, 44, a Houston real estate man. Tones was killed in his office Feb. 6, 1961, following a sex party there.

Miss Lima, 20, would be the first woman legally executed in Texas in over 100 years. She is a self-confessed prostitute, Ashley, 24, her boyfriend, is a female impersonator.

They received a stay of execution four hours before they were first scheduled to die March 29.

boys to Boys State. However no definite steps were taken in this effort.

The girls selected to go to Girls State will be announced later. Some of the points considered in the selection of these girls are: Health, character, ability to get along with others, school citizenship, church or community services and a member of the junior class.

This will be the first year for the Post and Auxiliary to sponsor girls to Girls State but it is hoped that each year hereafter two or more girls will have the opportunity to attend this meeting of several hundred girls where they will spend one week in a program that will familiarize them in some of the functions of state government, and also provide recreational activities in many areas.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for every service and kindness rendered by our many friends during the loss of our loved one.

Homers Give Indians a Fine Start

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians, with an assist from the Canadian Air Force and plan 5BX, are away winging, winning their opener with a four-homer salvo as the American League baseball season began to run full throttle.

Using "ballplayers nobody ever heard of," the Indians belted 20 game winner Camilo Pascual solidly Tuesday for a 5-4 opening day victory over Minnesota that had new Manager Birdie Tebbetts chirping.

Tebbetts borrowed the 11-minute calisthenic program labeled plan 5BX by the Canadian Air Force, and instituted it in spring training to get the Indians prepared for a quick getaway. There's no doubt his nobodies got away quick.

The nobodies included Jim Grant, who pitched a seven-inning, homer-hitters Woody Held, John Romano, rookie Max Alvis and newly acquired Fred Whitfield.

Said Tebbetts in somewhat of a challenge: "Cleveland has some ballplayers, but nobody ever heard of them. They will."

Joe Pepitone made himself heard for the New York Yankees, cracking two homers and a double in support of Ralph Terry's six-hit pitching as the world champions got started with an 8-2 triumph at Kansas City.

In other American League openers, the Chicago White Sox edged Detroit 7-5 behind newly acquired Pete Ward and Hoyt Wilhelm and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Boston 4-1 behind Ken McBride's four-hitter, Baltimore and Washington, who opened Monday, were not scheduled.

In the National League, defending champion San Francisco walked off Houston 9-2, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Chicago's Cubs 5-1, Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati 2-1, Pittsburgh defeated Milwaukee 3-2 and St. Louis shut out the New York Mets 7-0.

Lakers Get Another Try With Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers will try again Thursday night to wrap up the Western Division playoff title which eluded them Tuesday against the St. Louis Hawks.

However, this time Elgin Baylor, Jerry West and Co. will have the home court advantage that seems to have made the difference thus far in the National Basketball Association best-of-seven series. The Lakers and Hawks have won three each at home.

The charm worked again Tuesday night as the Hawks spurred early and late for a 121-113 triumph.

Baylor scored 39 points and West 28 but they were wasted as the Hawks' bench came out to help veterans Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan.

The Lakers nearly overcame a 16-point deficit in the final moments to pull within three before Pettit and substitutes John Barnhill and Bill Bridges teamed up in a closing spree that clinched the contest. Barnhill hit 6 points and Bridges 7, and another sub, Mike Farmer, added 5.

Wendell Harrison of Harding ran the half-mile in 1:58.8 and David Booth of Ouachita finished the 220-yard dash in 21.8 seconds.

The Indians' first three runs came on solo homers by Romano in the second inning and Whitfield and Alvis in the fourth. Then, in the seventh with the score tied 3-3, Alvis led off with a double, Dodgers whipped Chicago's Cubs 5-1, Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati 2-1, Pittsburgh defeated Milwaukee 3-2 and St. Louis shut out the New York Mets 7-0.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers meet Chattanooga in an intra-camp baseball doubleheader today, then take on Syracuse Thursday at Dade City, Fla. before packing for their trip to Little Rock Saturday.

The Travelers, who had manager Frank Lucchesi shaking his head from side to side Monday Nelson Osborne defeated Jim Cunningham, Arkansas, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Circus Clowns are Important

Three of the funny makers and Donna Dee, acrobat, wait their cue to perform in the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus appearing for one day only in Hope on Sunday, April 14 for one showing at 3 p.m. Sponsored by the Hope Jaycees.

Clowns that will make you happy and clowns that will make you feel sorry for them will hold a featured spot at the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus coming to Hope on Sunday, April 14.

Leading a great contingent of tankard comedians will be Lon Burkart, one of the nations most beloved clowns and Scotty Davis whose sly humor has delighted circus audiences from coast to coast.

It is a popular conception that clowns are happy-go-lucky fellows with never a care or worry in the world, but Brownie Golden, Pearl, Jim Campbell, Leroy Cooper and Don Slayton and the oldest man and wife midget team Shorty and Peggy Sylvester.

With an impressive array of new importation, together with two super musical spectacles — "Picnic in Fairyland" and "Moonbeams in the Sky" the Al Kelly and Miller Bros. circus, America's largest tented circus will give one show only at 3:00 p.m.

The five continent menagerie annex containing scores of steel cages and the largest herd of elephants on tour, will be open one hour prior to circus time.

Gridders May Get a Day Off

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Razorbacks may get a break from spring football practice today—to nurse injuries and catch up on studies.

Coach Frank Broyles sent the Porks through a full, filmed scrimmage Tuesday afternoon and noted the squad was plagued with a rash of minor injuries.

He would not comment on the workout, saying he would have to look at the films before assessing the work.

His only remark was that the "red team appeared to be doing okay."

Celtics, Royals
Battle It Out

BOSTON (AP) — The world champion Boston Celtics—aging, tired and 10-point favorites—battled it out with the Cincinnati Royals tonight for the Eastern Division playoff crown in the National Basketball Association.

The Celtics must win the final game in the best-of-seven series to earn a chance for their fifth straight NBA crown. The Royals must take it to continue their surprising march toward their first title since the franchise moved to the Ohio city from Rochester, N.Y.

Both teams are at full strength for the Boston Garden clash and the game has been a sellout for several days. The oddsmakers rate Boston 10-11 points better than the Royals, who won the sixth game 109-99 Sunday night in Cincinnati to square the series at 3-3.

after a 23-1 wallpating at the hands of Syracuse, snapped back Tuesday with an 8-5 revenge decision over the Chiefs.

Lucchesi found two things to smile at: The victory gave the Travelers the edge in the exhibition series with the Chiefs, (four to two with only one game left to go) and half of the Travelers' 12 hits were for extra bases.

Also, righthander Gary Kroll, who left camp last Friday after a disagreement with farm officials, was back in uniform Tuesday.

The Travelers take a day off Friday for packing. They are due in Little Rock by plane Saturday afternoon.

Star Hurlers Come Through in National

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

You can be pardoned for that feeling that this is where you came in.

The National League baseball pennant chase got under way in earnest Tuesday, and these were some of the results on the first full day of action:

Don Drysdale, a 25-game winner last year, won for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jack Sanford, 24 wins, got the victory for the San Francisco Giants, as Willie Mays (49 last season), Orlando Cepeda (35), Felipe Alou (25) and Willie McCovey (20) homered.

Art Mahaffey, 19 wins, set down the hard-hitting Cincinnati Reds on four hits, for the Philadelphia Phillies.

And the New York Mets, 120 losses last year, fell on their faces.

The scores were Los Angeles 5, Chicago Cubs 1; San Francisco 9, Houston 2; Philadelphia 2, Cincinnati 1, and the St. Louis Cardinals 7, New York Mets 0.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who dropped the annual day-ahead opener Monday at Cincinnati to the Reds evened their record at 1-1 with a 3-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

In the American League, the world champion New York Yankees dumped Kansas City 8-2, Cleveland beat Minnesota 5-4, the Chicago White Sox topped Detroit 7-5 and the Los Angeles Angels overcame the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Baltimore and Washington, who opened Monday in the Presidential game, were idle.

The Dodger victory may have been costly. Shortstop Maury Wills, the league's Most Valuable Player last year, left after the sixth inning with a jammed left ankle and was doubtful for today's game with the Cubs.

Wills, who stole 104 bases last season, revealed before the game that he had become worried about his valuable legs, and had gone to a hypnotist during the winter to try to get the worries off his mind.

Wills apparently hurt the ankle in the third inning when he was thrown out at the plate on a double play.

Drysdale gave up 11 hits but was helped by three double plays, as he won his sixth straight over the Cubs. The Dodgers broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth when Willie Davis tripled and scored on a balk by pitcher Larry Jackson, obtained in a winter trade from the Cards.

Rookie Ken McMullen iced the game with a two-run double in the ninth.

The Giants jumped off to a 6-0 lead at Houston. Cepeda's homer in the second opened the scoring and Sanford tripled home two runs in the same frame. Sanford weakened in the 90-degree heat and left in the sixth after giving up three straight singles. Jack Fisher, picked up in a trade with the Orioles, pitched hitless relief.

Mahaffey, the 24-year-old hard throwing right-hander, had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth. Frank Robinson opened that inning for the Reds with a single and moved to second on a ground out. Robinson scored when catcher John Edwards smashed a line double. Mahaffey then struck out Gene Freese and rookie Tom Harper to end the game, but only after Freese had missed a home run by a few feet foul.

Joey Jay, 21-14 last season, also pitched well, giving up only five hits in the seven innings he worked. Three singles, with Don Demeter's coming with two out, scoring the first Phillie run in the fourth. In the sixth, John Callison doubled and scored when Cincinnati first baseman Gordie Coleman let a double play relay throw get through him for an error.

The Mets, the worst tenth-place team in history last year, opened with an almost entirely new cast, but the same old act. They fumbled and fozzled the ball in the field, and were woeful at bat, as Ernie Broglio set them down with two hits. Larry Burright got both, a single in the first inning and a double in the ninth. At one stage, Broglio, retired 20 Mets in a row.

A newcomer, third baseman Bob Bailey, whose bonus has been estimated in the $1750,000 area, sparked for the Pirates. He hit a homer and a crucial single. The Pirates won in the ninth off reliever Bob Hendley, when Bill Virdon singled with two out, and Bailey beat out a slow roller for a hit. Then pinch hitter Ted Savage struck the winning blow, a single. Elroy Face, who pitched out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the ninth, got the win in relief.

Laws Enforced

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Hot Springs Ministerial Alliance sent a letter to Gov. Orval E. Faubus asking him to include a resolution calling for strengthening and enforcement of gambling laws in any special legislative session he might call.

The action was taken at the alliance's regular monthly meeting Monday. Twenty-one of the 22 ministers presented signed the letter.

The letter said the ministers had heard Faubus might call a special session to deal with State Police financing.

Sir Winston Is Honorary American

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill stands alone among all men as an honorary citizen of the United States.

Now in the evening of a great career, the 88-year-old Briton took an unprecedented stride into history when President Kennedy signed a proclamation Tuesday. It made him the first person ever to become an honorary American citizen.

In the President's view, it was something more than a reciprocal arrangement.

"By adding his name to our rolls," he said, "we mean to honor him—but his acceptance honors us far more. For no statement or proclamation can enrich his name now—the name Sir Winston Churchill is already legend."

In the view of the man who was prime minister in Britain's most dangerous days, the acclaim of this "mighty and benevolent nation" underscored the unity of the English-speaking peoples.

"In this century of storm and tragedy," he said in a message to Kennedy, "I contemplate with high satisfaction the constant factor of the interwoven and upward progress of our peoples. Our comradeship and our brotherhood in war were unexampled. We stood together, and because of that fact the free world now stands."

Churchill's words of gratitude for a great tribute were read by his son, Randolph. The grand old statesman was watching. Live television, using an orbiting satellite as a relay point brought the scene into his London residence with exceptional clarity. A household spokesman said, "Sir Winston was deeply moved. He retired immediately after the broadcast."
